JUDGMENT

Entered: September 8, 2023

Plaintiff Lisa Marie Brady appeals from the dismissal of her complaint and from the denial of her post-judgment motion to amend her complaint. We have carefully reviewed the record and the parties' submissions in this court. Applying de novo review, we affirm the dismissal of this case for lack of subject matter jurisdiction pursuant to the Rooker-Feldman doctrine, essentially for the reasons stated in the district court's January 7, 2022 memorandum and order. We also conclude that the district court did not abuse its discretion in denying plaintiff's motion to amend.

The judgment of the district court is affirmed. With respect to plaintiff's motions in this court, any motion for recusal of this panel is denied; plaintiff's motion to consolidate this appeal with D.N.H. Case No. 23-cv-00391-SE is denied; and plaintiff's motion to seal two exhibits is granted. See 1st Cir. R. 27.0(c).
